

Ladakh Dental Project 2011

Be part of a pioneer humanitarian project in the Ladakh Valley. Once a departure point for yak trains traveling into Central Asia, Leh is located in a small area just north of the Indus Valley. Situated deep in the Indian Himalayas, it offers spectacular mountain views and trekking. The people of Leh are of Tibetan descent and primarily practice Mahayana Buddhism.

Working in partnership with the Lions Club, we will set up a mobile dental clinic in a remote village in the Ladakh valley to provide first time dental care to children throughout the area. Outside the clinic, volunteers have a chance to get to know the local village people and take in rural life in the countryside. Volunteers work in the clinic for 6 days, after which the journey continues through India with sightseeing in Ladakh, Delhi, and Agra to see the Taj Mahal.
